

ON THE SCENE

with HANK WOLLMAN

Hank Woolman, distinguished author of this here column, is on a seven day furlough and his nightly romps were taken on by a not so distinguished author, Roberto Martello.

Just before "On The Scene" Woolman left for Hollywood and points north, he was seen basking in coconut chips, Bula Maka, and Kalua Puaa at the famed Polynesian luau last Sunday afternoon.

If you are wondering what Bula Maka is, it's strips of beef marinated in soya sauce and ginger and cooked over charcoal on bamboo sticks. For those of you who like something different, but delicious this is the dish.

Kalua Puaa is the famous whole pig baked underground imu lined with pre-heated rocks. Baking takes four or five hours.

A prime favorite of many "Kamaaina haoles" is the very popular poi, which is taro root pounded to a paste and traditionally eaten with one finger of two, depending on its consistency.

After leaving the luau we officially took over the pen and paper from Mr. H. W. and proceeded to the very plush Jump at Jack on the Great Wide Way. The refreshing atmosphere of this luxurious spot makes for a very enjoyable evening.

ing, P.S. The food is excellent. NAMES IN THE NIGHT: Patrons of the friendly Vegas Club enjoyed the birthday party thrown for Lorraine Zielski last week. Among those participating in the festivities were Margie Jackson, Norma Stewart, Rae Spinoso, Jamie Siegfried, husband John, Art Zielski and Chuck Spinoso; Dayton Rundall, popular man about UCLA, at the cozy Crenshaw spot, Alondra Inn; Donna Parker, Manhattan Beachcomber, enjoying the Japanese cuisine at Kyoto's on Western.

The readers of this column will have to excuse us for the short ramblings this week as the car ran out of gas, the pen ran out of ink and the writer ran out of adjectives.

City Allocation From Storm Drain Bond Issue Set

Torrance will receive an allocation of $2,589,600 if a proposed $25,000,000 flood control bond issue is approved.

According to Col. H. E. Hedger, chief engineer of the County Flood Control District, $920,000 of this amount would be allocated to the Walteria Lake area. Another $234,000 would go to Walteria, $488,000 for central Torrance and $816,400 for east Torrance.

At the same time, Hedger pointed out that it will require nearly $1,000,000,000 to solve all the county's flood problems.

Council Hear Pool Report

Building Superintendent Lee Schiensi will favor an ordinance requiring fences for swimming pools, but pointed out that his department has been successful in obtaining voluntary cooperation in the past.

He will give a report to the City Council Tuesday in response to a petition from 62 residents seeking a law which will require fencing of private pools.

The petition was circulated by Mrs. Norma Stitts, of 2241 Linda drive, the city clerk's office said.

Schiensi said to his knowledge all builders of private pools have followed the suggestion of building inspectors to erect fences.

Hubby Freed on Battery Nabbed for Non-Support

Ruben Avila Sepulveda, 37, got off scot-free from a battery and disturbance charge Thursday, only to be served with a warrant charging him with failure to support his wife and four children.

Sepulveda, a landscape designer of 18504 Falda ave., was arrested July 9 when his wife, Lillian, signed a complaint charging that he struck her the previous day and used foul language in front of their children.

Judge Donald Armstrong suspended the sentence since the defendant has already been in jail for two weeks in lieu of posting $250 bail.
